Thank you for your interest in presenting at the 2009 LimmudLA Conference. We believe that we all have something to learn from each other and are pleased that you want to share your love of Judaism and Jewish culture with others.

Important points to consider before completing this form:

1. Conference participants have diverse Jewish backgrounds and outlooks. We strive to make sure our sessions are likewise diverse in topic and/or style.
2. We encourage presenters to think “outside the box” in choosing their topics and style of presenting and strongly encourage workshop and discussion style sessions to spark conversations.
3. During times that you are not presenting your session, you are encouraged to be an active participant in Conference. Your willingness to learn with and from others is an essential part of the LimmudLA experience.
